

FUN NIGHT

VISION AND KEY CONTENT

An intermission in normal bible study content for the sake of having fun while inviting new people in – particularly after the “Bible Study Depth Chart” activity. This gathering and the invitations into it provide opportunity for bible study participants to live out their call to evangelize.

- Invite new people to have fun with your group
- Make a strong invitation to continue with bible study

"Where love rejoices, there is festivity."

St. John Chrysostom

HAVE A GREAT TIME

A list of things to invite new participants into. Make sure to involve your Bible study members in the invitation effort (See “Bible Study Depth Chart” activity for specifics)

Tried, True and Simple

- Art Night: Water coloring
- Board Game Night
- Cookies and Movie Night
- Charcuterie board

21 and Up

- Cocktail bar
- Cigars around a fire
- Trivia Night at a local bar

Adventurous

- Hiking trail / local state/national park outing
- Rock-climbing or Bouldering

Hit the Town

- Park Picnic
- Karaoke Night
- Coffee Shop Gathering
- Pick up Sports – Basketball, Soccer, etc.
- Tailgate Style Cook Out
- Driving Range
- Farmer’s Market

MAKE A STRONG INVITATION

In the context of this festivity, we’ll make a compelling invitation to those present to join the group moving forward. To that end...

- Explain to those present that this group normally meets as a Bible study weekly
- Share some of the blessings that your group has experienced from Bible study and why you’re excited to start the content you plan to lead next
- Share the details of Bible study (time, place, etc.)
- Add those present to your group chat

After the event, help your Bible study members make intentional individual invites to those that were in attendance when Bible study resumes.
